Dear Dr. Zhao

I am writing to extend my appreciation for the SPIR program and Stony Brook University for the support provided to our Organization. We are delighted with the quality of students and their immense contribution to our organization. They worked on various live projects in the engineering function and I was impressed by the hard work they put in, to meet the specific requirements of the project.

The SPIR program is a definite success, I would certainly recommend that more organizations should hire students for Summer and Fall projects through this program. We are delighted to be associated with SPIR and Stony Brook University and look forward to our continued association.

Sincerely,

John Murcutt
